THE DUCHESS OF CHEROKEE AND STEPHENS POISONING CASE.—The New York Herald, referring to the conviction of Stephens for the murder of his wife, says:

The leading points in the Stephens case, so admirably set forth in the charge of Mr. Justice Roosevelt, upon her out of the common history of crime that it will become of the leading causes celebres in the History of American jurisprudence. The prisoner was a laboring man, in miserable circumstances, regarded by his employers as a faithful and honest servant. He was a leading member of a first noted for the pious fervor of its exhorters. He was, in his way of life, an eminently respectable man. His wife died after an illness of several weeks. One year after her death her remains were exhumed by the authorities. Acute scientific analyzers pronounced the hypothesis that she came to her death by poison. A jury has, in fact, decided, after a protracted and altogether a fair trial that this poison was administered by her husband, in order that he might possess the more comely person of her niece.—His attempted first to seduce the young woman last named, then resorted to absolute violence and afterwards blackened her character through the foulest and meanest of all channels—an anonymous letter.

Well, at this might have been, and yet, the men to-day, have stood as well as he did two years ago, but just as overtook him, chiefly through his own acts—acts quiet to his crime. The brother of the girl he had attempted to debauch, obeying the natural impulses, assaulted the seducer; a pistol-shot followed, and during the examination of the collateral issue, the charge of murder was made by the girl. It was regarded lightly. Every one knows how much reliance can be placed upon words spoken under such exciting circumstances as those in which the Belle were placed. But the prosecution was pressed on the side of Stephens and the charge was reiterated by the Belle. The exhumation of the body was determined upon, the friends of Stephens believing it would exonerate him. When the case finally came to trial it was not over and above strong for the prosecution. There were many little circumstances against the prisoner, but the chain was not entirely complete. The respectable character of Stephens, the necessary inconsistency of the finely drawn though scientifically clear chemical testimony, the stupidus hopes to character the evidence of the chief witnesses on the part of the State, all went in favor of the prisoner, and seemed to point to no verdict, and perhaps one of acquittal. But in the course of the trial the deliberance proved too much, and added important links to a chain of circumstantial evidence which weighed down upon the prisoner. And he was convicted, first through a prosecution he had set on foot against Robert Hall, deceased, out of the mouths of his own witnesses. The cloak of religion, which is assumed nowadays by almost every scamp who hopes to escape the punishment of his crime by assuming a pharisaical piety, availed him nothing.—His atheistic tobad him out through his own acts, and his own to turn, chiefly, his position as a condemned man to-day.

CALIFORNIA INDIANS.—The great ten mile race between Princess and Gipsom Chief was won by Princess in 29:10. An immense amount of money changed hands. The owners of the horses staked no less than $10,000, all of which, to twenty-dollar gold pieces, was distributed on the judges' stand during the race.

An immense amount of snow had fallen in some portions of the State. At La Porte, Sierra county, tunnels had to be constructed under the snow from the hotels to different sections of the town.

The citizens of Horsetown District, Shasta county, assembled recently to drive the Chinamen from the mines, and arrested about two hundred. They were resisted by the Sheriff and his deputies, with a large party of law and order men, and the Chinamen were liberated. The same night a fight took place between the rioters and the Sheriff's party, in which several persons were wounded. It is believed that there will be a very serious collision between the authorities and the rioters before the matter ends.

Honolulu dates to the 17th of February are received.

The eruption of the volcano, Mauna Loa, still continued in all its grandeur. The British war ship Imer Calypso had sailed for Hawaii with an excursion party, among whom was King Kamehameha and other distinguished guests. The officers of the steamer were provided with instruments for taking observations on the burning mountain, and would attempt to ascend to the crater. The lava was flowing over a barren country, and no damage had been done except the destruction of a village.

Mr. S. H. Russell, who arrived at San Francisco in the ship Yosemite, from Hostod, died in a bathing tub at the Eureka Bathing House. About half an hour after the valet went into the bathing room, the proprietor heard the water running, and receiving no answer to his calls he broke in the door, when Mr. Russell was found lying in the tub, dead.

The social status of the Mormons at Salt Lake is reported as follows: In 7 men with 7 or more wives; of these 12 have more than 19 wives; 750 men with five wives; 1100 men with four, and 1400 with more than one wife.

A woman has been indicted at Auburn, N. C., for being a common scold.

When persons dispute with each other from their respective whims, why is there no chance of being able to agree? Because they argue from different premises.

At New Orleans a newspaper reporter fought a duel with a cotton trader, and killed him; thereby making an interesting item for a sheet.

JUDGE EDMONDS' EXPERIENCE.—The New York Tribune publishes the first of a series of letters from Judge Edmonds, on Spiritualism and mysterious "manifestations." The Judge's experience of "rapping" was singular. He had heard all kinds and sounds, but finally, the rappings were made to answer his calls. He could spell, all ideas in my mind as to its being done by others or by machinery, the rappings came to me alone when I was in bed, when no mortal but myself was to the room. I first heard them then on the floor as I lay reading. I said, "It's a mouse." They instantly changed their location from one part of the room to another with a rapidity that no human person, distinct, clear and unequivocal. I experimented to myself by calling it a twitching of nerves, which, at times I had experienced, and so I tried to see if it was so—if when on my thigh that they came. I sat up in bed, threw off all clothing from the limb, tearing it entirely bare.

I held my lighted lamp in one hand, near my leg and sat and looked at it. I tried various experiments. I laid my left hand flat on the spot—the rape would be then on my hand and cease on my leg. I laid my hand edgewise on the limb, and the force, whatever it was, would pass across my hand and reach the leg, making itself as perceptible on each finger as the leg. I held my hand two or three inches from my thigh, and found they instantly stopped, and resumed their work as soon as I withdrew my hand." He subsequently went to Central America and solitude there confirmed his belief that they who once lived on earth and have died, can and do communicate with those yet living"—and what it is—if at they can and do "arose" to us through such communion, he proposes to show in future n the Tribune.—Boston Post.

OUR "DISTINGUISHED REPRESENTATIVE" AT HALIFAX. Some friend has sent us a copy of the British (Halifax) Colonist of March 19, containing a report of sentiments and speeches delivered at the celebration of St. Patrick's Day in that city. Among the toasts, we find that the Honorable Provincial Secretary toasted the President of the United States, and in so doing alluded to "the distinguished representative of that power, who has for some years resided among us," meaning the American Consul, Mr. Albert Pillsbury. This brought Mr. Pillsbury to his feet, and he addressed the company as follows:

Mr. Pillsbury said:—I did not anticipate, sir, being called on so early in the evening to respond to the toast you have proposed and drunk; I thought that, perhaps after a long string of toasts had been gone over, I at the end—as on a former occasion—might have been called on to respond to one. As the former's almanac says, however, that style of doing does not suit this meridian." (Cheers and laughter). Sir I have had many opportunities of judging, and I can bear testimony to this, for true hospitality, for genuine kindness of heart, to people on earth, exceed the Irish. (Cheers.) I have often tried to find a comparison for them, and at last concluded that an Irishman's heart resembles a steamboat. (Cheers and laughter.) The Irishman is a high pressure boat—(laughter)—the rest of the Anglo-Saxon race are low pressure.

Sir, I have witnessed steams in the course of my life which, you may be unfamiliar. I can carry my mind back to the time when Ireland was sore pressed with famine—when starvation and death stalked over the land, unchecked and uncontrolled. I was living in a district surrounded by Irish, and have known my own servant girl to work extra shoeless, that she might save a pounc to send home to his famishing people in Ireland. (Cheers.)—Sir, I was made the almoner in a poor country to send home £1400 to relieve the starving.—(Cheers.) Sir I have to say it, that such unbounded charity does not belong to my own country.

Have I a personal reason for liking the Irish. I have run election for my time, and I give you my word I never knew an Irishman to vote against me. (Laughter.) I return you thanks on behalf of the President of the United States for the manner in which you have received his health.

Without dwelling upon the rather original theory that an Irishman is only a high pressure Anglo Saxon, we may suggest that our "distinguished representative" seems to have set his own fellow-countrymen at rather a low figure, in his remarks. In short, Mr. Consul Pillsbury, either from sheer ignorance of facts or from an extraordinary desire to blarney his Irish friends, has deliberately depreciated the character of his American fellow-citizens for brave nce—and that, too, in a foreign land, where he was sent to represent (not mis-represent) his country. What he expressed his "sorrow" that such unbounded charity did not belong to his own country," could Mr Pailsbury have forgotten that no country, and we will say no people, did in fact, contribute such real unbounded like ality to relieve the very distress to which he alluded, as the American people! Could he have forgotten that besides other large donations a noble frigate was laden with bread from America and despatched by the American government itself to relieve the distress of those famishing multitudes in the Green Isle—and that Americans were then hailed as the earthly saviours of the Irish people! That the Irish people in the United States nobly contributed to the assistance of their friends at home is most true—and many of them to the full extent of their means—but while justly complimenting them, it was the last thing that Mr. Consul Pillsbury should have done, to detract from the the credit of his own countrymen by any such ill prevailing remark, at a foreign festival.

There is no manner of doubt that this distinguished representative Asserman elections to "his time." He ran one in this State, if our memory serves us, about the year 1833-34, and was most decidedly run into the ground—and his Halifax speech above quoted showed that the people on that occasion were not far wrong in their estimate of the man.

THE SAN FRANCISCO VIGILANCE COMMITTEE. The suit of James H. Maloney against James Down, Treasurer of the San Francisco Vigilance Committee, brought before the Court of Common Pleas in New York, has been dismissed from Court. Maloney was a Navel Storekeeper at San Francisco, and being sent out of the State by the Vigilance Committee, he brought suit to recover damages. Justice Daly gave the case a patient hearing and decided that the action should be brought in California, and that the Courts of New York had no jurisdiction.

A Letter about Pike's Peak.

The following is from a young man formerly of this city, and his statements may be relied upon as to the information he has received:

KANSAS CITY, March 22d, 1859.

Mr. Editor:

Having received numerous letters from friends in your city, asking information relative to the newly discovered gold mines at Pike's Peak, and being desirous of presenting such facts as I have collected from reliable resources, I beg a small space in your columns to do so.

Very flattering statements have been made by persons in the mines, but they should be received with great caution, as a system of exaggeration has been indulged in by parties deeply interested in town sites and other speculations.

So far no evidence proving that gold exists in sufficient quantities to remunerate the miners has been adduced.

I heard from Mr. Moore, (of the firm of Russell, Majors & Waddel,) that a man left one of their trains early last fall, and after prospecting sixty-nine days, returned with a trifle over nine dollars as the result of his labors, and begged a passage in with one of the trains. I was favored with the perusal of a letter received here last evening, from a gentleman to his brother-in-law. He arrived on the South Platte, in the vicinity of Cherry Creek (reported the richest part of the mining region) early in December, with a company of six men, properly equipped, and after prospecting and working hard until February 7th, (the date of his letter) gives the result of his experience to this effect: That the amount per man has been from five cents to one dollar a day, and that not a man in a hundred can be found who has realized four dollars in a day. Many of the miners, he states, will leave for California and New Mexico early in the spring. The hope exists among them that when the more favorable season for mining approaches richer diggings may be discovered.

These are facts from men for whose veracity I can speak.

I also enclose you a letter received here last Wednesday and published, which fully corroborates the above. Added to the fact that little or no gold has been received, it induces many to believe it will turn out a most stupendous hiimbug.

Yours, &c., J. P. S.

WARREN'S PRIMARY GEOGRAPHY. London: Shepard, Clark & Brown. 1859.

This work forms part of a series for schools, of which the "Common School Geography" and the "Physical Geography" have been published—and is intended as an introduction to the former. It contains nineteen colored maps and about fifty handsome engravings, illustrative of the text. The previous works of Mr. Warren have met with an ovation as school books, and we presume this one under notice will be found equally valuable and well adapted to its purpose. We have not had time to examine it, but perceive that it adopts some different methods of imparting geographical knowledge from those of other works.

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.—The Bunker papers have rather mildly chuckled over an allegation made by the New York Day Book and other pro-slavery papers, to the effect that Mr. Ten Eyck the Republican U. S. Senator elect from New Jersey, is the owner of two hundred slaves, bequeathed to Mrs. Ten Eyck by her father, Mr. Gadsby. The story looks rather different, however, when told by the Newark Mercury: The facts are that Mr. Ten Eyck might have been the owner of a number of slaves from the estate referred to, if he had been willing to become a slaveholder, yet that notwithstanding the value of the "property" devised, he absolutely refused to receive the legacy.

A LAWYER EXPELLED FROM THE BAR.—John Percy, an attorney of Albany, recently commenced a sixty-seven suits for libel against the proprietors of the Evening Journal, one in every county in the State, and some in Pennsylvania. The gross amount of damages claimed reached the enormous sum of $1,500,000. On application of defendant's attorney, the suits were consolidated into one and on trial the jury found a verdict for defendants, and the lawyer was subsequently expelled from the bar.

In Pike county, N. C., an old man named Wiley Smith, aged seventy years, has been indicted for the murder of a distant relative named Smith, nearly as old as himself. It is said the deed was prompted by jealousy.

A man arrived at Pittsford, Vt., a few days since from Ellwood, Kansas, his sole errand being to thrash his brother-in-law, who had maltreated his wife. Having finished the business to his satisfaction, he returned home.

The New Orleans Picayune says that the Board of Underwriters of that city have adopted a resolution to permit the erection now ground at the bar to break cargo, and send up the city in lighters or tow-boats, assuming all risks so far as the freights are insured in New Orleans offices.

The Lockport, N. Y., Journal tells a story of eight children at a birth, somewhere in Jamaica West, vouched for by responsible witnesses, of course. He was the story about the fellow's walking across the Niagara river on stilts. The company of wiseacres, in each case, was very select.

FIRE.—THE OLD SETTLER ON HAND.—Yesterday morning, about six o'clock, a small house in East Hampden, belonging to John Knowles, took fire and was totally consumed. An adjoining house would have shared the same fate but for the timely appearance of Engine No. 1 Old Settler, belonging to Messrs. Hinkley & Egery, and Roberts' steam mills, manned by the men of the mill under the supervision of Engineer Ray, who happened to be present at the mills, Capt. Jose and Superintendent Gould.

A VENERABLE DUNNING LETTER.—There may be seen in the window of C. R. Patch's bookstore the original of a dunning letter from the first signer of the Declaration of Independence to Mr. Robert Treat of this place, dated 1798. The signature has the same boldness as that attached to the Declaration, and the matter of the letter is so explicit that Mr. Treat could not have been left in any doubt. Mr. Treat was the father of General Treat, and lived above the Rose Place The Bangor post office was at the Red Bridge. The Mr. Emerson spoken of, lived on Front street, and we understand built the old two story yellow dwelling, known as the Gould House, which is still standing. The localities of the post office and Mr. Emerson will explain the postscript. The following is the copy:

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.—At Burlington, March 23th, Mr. David Barker, aged 27, son of Noah Barker, died of an accident which occurred some months ago, a being hit in the side by the tongue of a sled.

Ship Agamemnon, Goodwin, from Liverpool for Baltimore, has bilged, is full of water and will probably be a total loss. She was built at Rowdsinham in 1854, was 899 tons, and was owned by Herman and others, of Bath. An additional despatch states that steamer Palapaco, which arrived at Baltimore on the 18th from Charleston, picked up on Saturday a boat containing the captain and four of the crew of the Agamemnon. When the Palapaco came up with the Agamemnon ashore on Carrituck the captain and crew returned to the vessel which was full of water.

Schooner Dr. Kane, from Bagus, New York, put into Key West on the 24th inst., leaky; would discharge.

PORTLAND TRANSCRIPT.—The interesting family paper has just commenced a new volume, with renewed vigor and renewed attractions for the future. Under its present popular management the Transcript has attained an immense circulation, having nearly if not quite as many subscribers as any paper in the State. It is conducted with marked ability—is an excellent family paper—its proprietors are capital fellows—and we wish it abundant success.

LADIES' LEVEE.—The Ladies of the Universalist Society in Orono will repeat their Levee this evening. Owing to the bad weather of Tuesday evening they have decided to do so, in order that all may have an opportunity to attend. See advertisement

THE NEW GOVERNMENT HOUSE IN PORTLAND. A committee of the Portland City Council reports that $94,000 has thus far been expended upon the new city building on Congress and Myrt's streets, and that $70,000 more will be required to finish it. The structure is to be of the most elegant and convenient of the kind in the United States. The lot of land is leased to the city for 999 years, at $1 per year, payable when called for. The building fronts 160 feet on Congress street, and runs back 221 feet on Myrtle street. In front is to be in the Florentine style of architecture, with towers at each corner 75 feet high, projecting three feet from the front line. The main building to have a dome with a lantern for a lookout—the top of the lantern to be 130 feet high. One wing, 70 feet by 67, is to be occupied by the county, in place of the present Court House, which is to be removed. The City Government finds ample accommodations in the basement and in eight rooms in the first story. There are five large rooms in the first story, and a large number above in the same wing for "State or other uses," as the report expresses it. In this wing is the large and splendid Hall, 112 feet long, 80 feet wide, and 32 feet high.

IMPROVEMENTS.—We notice that the inside of the store lately occupied by Mr. B. Pierce, on Exchange street, is being remodelled and refitted. It is to be occupied by the well known and established corn and flour dealing firm of Atwood & Nickerson. A commodious store-house is to be erected on the wharf in the rear, to accommodate their extensive business.

A TORRES SCHURTZ, at Brunswick writes us to caution the public against a couple of fellows who are travelling round sponging hotel keepers. One of them professes to deal in Electro Magnetic Machines, and he (other is in safety fluid lamps. They don't pay their bills.—Ayer.

We are informed though we do not vouch for the correctness of the rumor, that Hon. John Babson, since the reduction of the Consul's fees on the Canadian line, has found the revenues of his office inadequate to his support, and will soon resign and return to his quiet retreat in Wiscasset.—Bath Times.

THE STORY about the clergyman in Portland who was married to Halifax, was a mistake. The Rev. gentleman was on board the St. John boat, and returned to Portland with the pilot.

A large delegation is about leaving Gardiner and Farmingdale for Pike's Peak

THE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The Times has the following additional particulars of the railroad disaster a notice of which we published in our telegraphic columns yesterday morning. We regret to learn that conductor Mitchell's injuries are very serious and may prove fatal:

"A number of the passengers belonging in this city who were on the train, arrived here this forenoon, having spent the night at Waterville, in which place they walked from the place of the accident, in Vassalboro six or seven miles. They relate that the road is in a very unsafe condition, as they had a good opportunity to inspect that portion over which they travelled on foot. At the point where the accident occurred, the earth had washed out from under the sleepers for a space of fourteen feet, and to the depth of some fifte n feet, with a few slight supports of earth, the rails and sleepers forming a sort of gridiron bridge. On one side was a high bank, and on the other side a steep declivity to the river, and the water was running freely underneath, there being no culvert at the point. The train was running very slowly and not for this very reason was the shock followed by the usual disaster would have ensued. The engine plunged into the chasm followed by the tender. The baggage car tipped up and the passenger car tilted, but settled back in its place. The engineer and fireman jumped off. Several citizens of Bangor were on board, Gov. Morrill's wife and two children and several others.

Before meeting with this accident, a bad place in the road the engine was detached and passed over, and the passengers pushed their car over and hooked on.

We have since learned from Conductor Pman that Mr. Mitchell had his right arm broken, his shoulder and head badly bruised, and that it was feared he had sustained serious internal injuries, which might prove fatal, but that at the last accounts, he was more comfortable, and hopes were entertained of his recovery.

FRESHET IN THE KENNEBEC.—The water in the Kennebec river stream is at a very high pitch. Last evening a boom gave way above Six Mile Falls, letting the logs and ice down against the bridge, placing it in immine n danger. Street Commissioner Wingate put a gang n men upon the jam and succeeded in getting the logs and ice by without much injury to the bridge. This jam swept away the Randall Bridge, and floated down to the Sirkland Bridge, which was also in great danger but it was forestalled by loaded with stone, and such other precautions taken as it was thought would secure it. The Randall Bridge was built by private enterprise, and does not belong to the city.

The first steamboat whistle of the season added our ears last evening. Our wharves will soon present the usual spring activity and bustle. It is very unusual to have nav gation resumed so early in the season.

MESSRS. WHEELWRIGHT & CLARK, are now preparing for the foundation of the r new building upon the Taylor corner. The old store is slowly moving down Broad street and an elegant edifice will soon rise upon the site which will be a like credit to the proprietors and to the city.

J. P. Whitehead of South Paris has lately secured a patent for an improvement in shoes

PROF. GRIMES will give another of his series of Lectures, this evening, at Concert Hall, upon Norombega. The Professor is a talented and interesting lecturer, and persons interested in the subjects upon which he speaks, should give him a crowded house. He lectures six weeks in Portland to large audiences.

HIGH WATER.—The water is quite high in the Penobscot. Considerable damage is being done up river by the freshet. A bridge was floated off near Olamon, but it was secured at a short distance from its former site, and it can probably be replaced when the water falls.

Rufus B. Wood, Esq., having declined the Democra nomination for Mayor of Portland, Hon. Charles Holden has been put in nomination. Allen Haines Esq., was selected as candidate for Municipal Judge.

THE ice left the Kennebec river yesterday. A considerable number of logs have come down.—Augusta Age

MYSTERIOUS ESCAPE BY RANGER.—SUPPOSED SUICIDE.—A Mr. Walter Shubrook, of New York, who has been spending several weeks visiting in this village, mysteriously disappeared on Monday evening last, since which time nothing has been heard from him, and grave fears are entertained for his safety. He had been ill, and his mind appeared to be in an unsettled state. Foot-prints in the snow have been traced to the river, and search is now being made for his person. Great excitement exists throughout the village in consequence of his sudden disappearance.—Farmington Chronicle.

The town of Camden at their late annual meeting, voted to purchase two hundred copies of Locke's History of Camden, and to sell one hundred and fifty dollars for the same being authorized by act of Legislature.

INCENDIARY FIRE.—A store in Athens, belonging to Hon. John Ware, of Waterville, was burned on Saturday night last, doubtless the work of an incendiary. The loss in goods, papers and other property, was large, but is not yet fully ascertained. There was evidently an attempt at the same time to burn the mill, belonging also to Mr. Ware. There was some distance from the other buildings, and used only for storing property. Mr. Ware offers a reward of $600 for the conviction of the incendiary.—Waterville Mail.

SUICIDE.—A young man named Alonzo Thompson committed suicide in that town on the 15th inst., by shooting himself with a fowling piece. He had been married about five weeks.

RELEASE OF SR. ARANCIO.—We are happy to learn from Mr. Hattustegui, the partner of Mr Asencio, that by a letter from Havana, under date of March 23d, he has received information that Mr A. has been released from arrest, and that he will return in the steamer Isabel.—Portland Adv.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr Benjamin C. Cobb, a highly esteemed young man, while making a social call at the house of Mr Wm. H. Jerris, on Tuesday evening, was seized with an epileptic fit, from which he did not recover, but died yesterday afternoon.—Portland Argus.

DISASTERS.—Sch Massachusetts, from Rockland, with lime, went ashore on Tuesday night below this port, but seams off at high water.

Sch Mobile, from Portland, to load for Grand Canary, in going down the harbor, went ashore on Governor's island, but was got off by a steamer, and proceeded to sea.

Ship Mediterranean of Richmond, Me., Lauderkin, abandoned on fire outside the bars of the Mississippi, was 1785 tons, built at Richmond, Me. in 1856.

Ship Northern Light, Vasile, from New York for San Francisco, put into Valparaiso dismasted, and remained 15th.

ALARMING.—The Springfield Republican says that even in Massachusetts, where the laws are supposed to be as clear and consistent as in any State, in the attempt to enlarge the legal domain of women, the statutes are so mixed that a wife is under no legal obligation to get breakfast, sew on a shirt button, or nurse the baby ever, unless the husband pays her for it! It is to state that in mere mention of the fact may not make trouble to families and create business for the lawyers, but the illustration of the general inconsistency and imperfection of the laws pertaining to woman is too good to be omitted, even though such unpleasant consequences are risked by disclosing it.

The papers say that seventeen hundred shoemakers are on a strike in Philadelphia, for higher wages. It is hoped they may not and be disappointed.

Railroad Bill Lost !

AUGUSTA, March 31, 1859.

This forenoon there was a warm, earnest, and exciting debate in the House, on the motion to re-consider the vote refusing a passage to the Aroostook Railroad resolves. The debate includes a margin of party politics and other matters. The speakers were McCrillis, Stuart, Smith and Porter, in favor; and Pike, Wells and Dyer, opposed. There was much excitement for a brief period between McCrillis and Pike, but it soon subsided. The vote to re-consider stood sixty-five to seventy four, and was negatived.

WASHINGTON, 31st.

From all that can be learned it is not unsafe to say that if the statements relative to Gen. Wm Gore Ousley's alleged action in Nicaragua are correct, he has violated not only his own instructions but the solemn understanding between the British government and that of the United States. If the facts are as stated, the President will, it is said, notwithstanding the refusal of Congress to grant him extended naval powers to protect the rights and property of citizens of the United States, exact conformity with this every may have been the stipulations between the two governments respecting Ousley's mission.

The recent outrage on the vessels of the Atlantic and Pacific Steamship Company was to-day brought to the attention of the government officials, who are reported to have said that the property of American citizens shall and will be protected. The prospects now are that additional vessels will be despatched to Nicaragua.

Despatches from the commander of the flag ship Merrimac, dated Harbor of Hayana 25th, says that there is reason to believe that the recent cruise of the Decatur in the gulf of Mexico has been productive of result highly beneficial to the interests of our country in that quarter. The object of the Decatur in going to San Juan del Sur was as reported the passengers of the Steamship Heimans, which was expected to arrive early in March and the prisoners of one of the vessels of the squadron being unfortunate, she had been cruising in pursuance of orders to intercept filibusters.

At La Union the Decatur was said to be the first U. S. vessel which had entered that port. She was visited by the Governor of the Department as well as by other officials. The first national salute ever received by the flag of San Salvador was from the Decatur which was enthusiastically received by all classes of people.

Letters from distinguished sources in Paris and London, express the confident belief that there will be no war, there being a prospect of accommodating the differences now existing.

Col. Sexton celebrated, with all his friends last night, his golden wedding, that one hundred fifty years, and for about that period connected with the National Intelligencer.

BOSTON, March 31st.

The House to-day rejected the bill extending the right of coast pilots to navigate vessels into Boston harbor; also, the bill to establish the second battalion of Infantry. The bills to increase the capital stock of the Atlas and North Banks, and to incorporate the Natick fire-cent Savings Bank, were passed to be engrossed. A bill was introduced, on leave, to incorporate the Massachusetts and Nova Scotia Telegraph Company. The Legislature Friday next for final adjournment.

BOSTON, March 31st.

The U. S. sloop of war Saratoga arrived at Pensacola on the 25th, bringing Vera Cruz dates of the 12th. She reports leaving the U. S. sloops Saratoga, 2 Spanish, 4 French and 4 English men of war in port. There were rumors of internal fighting, but they were so conducting that it was impossible to rely upon them. M. Cramer had met with several defeats, as it had not yet arrived with his forces within striking distance of Vera Cruz. He was said to be at Cosamaloapa. The Vera Cruzians were perfectly confident of success. The Saratoga will take in a good supply of stores and return without delay, to relieve the Savannah.

THE LAST OF THE WANDERER'S NEGROES.—In a following extract from a letter received by the editor, from a highly respectable citizen of Delfair county, will be found no contemptible particulars of the recent arrest of Africans in that county and the circumstances under which they were discharged from custody by the United States Deputy Marshal.

John F. McAfee of, that county, Deputy United States Marshal, having been instructed by the Marshall, to capture any Africans he might find residing, through the country, was informed that there were thirty six in charge of two northwestern men, on their way to the Alabama line. He summoned a posse of ten men, some of our best citizens, pursued and overtook the negroes in Worth county, arrested them as Deputy United States Marshal under his instructions, and brought them to Dacksonville and put them in jail, and sent an express to the Marshal at Savannah, reporting the arrest and his action in the matter.

The negroes remained here until the answer from the Marshal came, which stated that had duly applied and written to the authorities at Washington, and had received no answer requiring the Africans then known to be in the country that the Government knew of the Africans being in the State and had given him no orders, and that his advice was to release them and let them proceed on their way. When this letter came, and as the arrest had been made by the authority of the United States, and in good faith, the negroes were released, the person in charge of them paying for the provisions they consumed, and medical aid to the sick those that were sick. One or two of these debating in the arrest retook the negroes and brought a detachment for their aid, and trouble, threatening to, carry the negroes to Governor Brown if it was not paid. A compromise was made to the satisfaction of the parties, and the last of the Wanderer's cargo were allowed to depart in peace. The negroes all liked very much to leave, as they had been treated kindly by the planters.—Savannah Republican.

There is one item of trade done in Philadelphia, says the Gazette, which does not have to be settled often in the usual manner of the business of discount customers. The is furnishing supplies for the Salt Lake settlements. The Mormons are good, steady customers here, and excellent pay. It is a curious sort of trade for the any body. A merchant, in assorting a dry goods stock for Mormon use, can make a few allowances for loathsome tastes, for a Mormon boy's dress for one wife, the next, the next, must all have dresses like it. Pet fancy is carried to a much greater extent in the Salt than in general, believed. It has been the impression although that the body proceeded by the leaders of the church, whereas the influence of the custom is quite general. The wives perform most of the labor of no extensive amount, and are therefore use instead of horses and farm servants, assistresses, &c. In this way, the institution is economical, though man ng a condition of society quite different from ours.

PERRY DAVIS' Vegetable Pain Killer!

REV. T. ALLEN, writing from Taxoy, Barnsley says—"Within the past four years I have used and disposed of about five hundred bottles, but am now out. Please send me a fresh supply (through the Mission House) as soon as you can, say two hundred bottles." I dare not be without it myself, and there are endless calls for it, both by Natives and Europeans. I always take it with me into the jungles, and have frequent occasions to use it both on myself and others.—One night, while sleeping in an open Bazar, I was awoke by a most excruciating pain in my foot. On examination I found I had been bitten by a Centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief. In less than an hour I was a pain asleep."

Rev. H. L. Van Meter, of Nauvoo, Ind. says—"I feel it my duty to assure you that we prize your Pain Killer very highly. For the first two or three years of our residence in India we were ignorant of its valuable properties and did not use it, but now would hardly feel safe without it for a single day. Only a few nights since Mrs. Van Meter was stung by a scorpion, and intense pain was [illegible] throughout the arm, and soon a numbness of the fingers followed. By the continued application of the Pain Killer for an hour or more, and at intervals during the night, the alarming symptoms were subdued, and in the morning only a slight soreness was felt in the finger. I gave it to a person [illegible] of Prepared Ague, according to directions, and it acted like a charm, breaking it up at once. The Natives have great confidence in it."

Mr. W. L. Carpenter writes from Calcutta, "Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer is a very valuable medicine, and most people here that have used it entertain a high opinion of its worth."

Messrs. P. Davis & Son—Gents: We have sold the subscriber's Pain Killer for [illegible] and close that per [illegible] in a few days. He will send a draft for £50 on the Mercantile Bank of India, London and China, to your order. Hope to receive your agency for sale at Savannah and Ala Dalusa. Yours truly,

DESMARET, MARSHALL & Co.

Messrs. P. Davis & Son—Gents: The [illegible] with 54 boxes, and the "Saint of Malta," with 45 boxes, of your valuable Pain Killer, have arrived and the Pain Killer is sold at 150 per dozen. Nothing of the kind has ever landed yet, but we hope they will be in here for us in time and your account sales and remittances by this mail. These two shipments are divided among four different parties, two of whom ground each have taken the whole [illegible] were they would allow it. Thinks the best commencement we can make on your Pain Killer. Send us [illegible] shipments. NEWELL, HIGGINS & STEVENS.

The Honey Blade Grass.

THE results which have been attained by experiments in the cultivation of this new and important species of product, have awakened deep interest among the farming [illegible] in many sections, never before equaled in the cultivation of our agricultural staples. Facts, in regard to the valuable properties which attend the cultivation of this most incredible, have now been established beyond the possibility of a doubt, and [illegible] by these facts, we respectfully address [illegible] to the general attention of the public, and solicit a few moments of your valuable time, while we present briefly some of its advantages.

First—It will produce double the weight to the acre, in hay and any other kind of grass. From four to six tons per acre is not an uncommon yield, and I am in possession of [illegible] statements by disinterested and reliable persons, each yield of over eight tons to the acre, and [illegible] single acre has been where it has not possible to get more than one half the amount from any of the common grasses.

Second—The [illegible] with its possessors mentioned, will, [illegible] quantity will sell for a better price in the market, than timothy, there being more than double the amount of nutriment in the same weight of the latter, and [illegible] from the same cause, that the latter is equally valuable as either hay or the seed is taken from it, while [illegible] is as valuable as the best of millstream, as a feed for horses, cattle, pigs, chickens, &c., and is [illegible] superior to timothy for the manufacture of oil, and must always [illegible] ready sale, at a fair price, for this purpose.

Fourth—It can be sown on ground where other crops have failed, either on account of poor soil or [illegible] and [illegible] will yield a large return.

Fifth—In the Northern climate, where clover and other grasses are [illegible] this will yield a large crop, [illegible] will grow in the poorest sections of the South where other grasses will not thrive, and all it will grow very good [illegible].

Sixth—It will stand in any kind of weather, and whether the season be wet or dry, the harvest may always rely upon the Honey Blade as a sure crop.

These and other advantages are more fully set forth which are endorsed by some of the best scientific [illegible] of the Union, and we feel that we can carry conviction to every intelligent reader.

Having been engaged during the past year in the purchase and importation of the pure Honey Blade Seed, I have determined to offer it for sale on such terms as will make it an object for every farmer and planter to [illegible] themselves, during the coming season, with its cultivation. It is put up in uniform bags of about a bushel each, and the amount being sufficient to seed one acre, is sold at the price of $2 per bag, delivered in New York or St. Louis.

Single bags, or lots, can be sent to any part of the country as freight or by express, and will be put up, packed and [illegible] for transportation, and all proper arrangements made, free of charge.

Each bag is stamped with the Hungarian coat of arms, and the following [illegible] "Honey Blade Hungarian Grass Seed." It will be sold by agents in various sections, but parties [illegible] be careful of whom they purchase and get the pure genuine seed; they are especially cautioned not to purchase the common Hungarian Grass Seed, as it is very far inferior to the Honey Blade.

An interesting pamphlet, containing all the facts, and full particulars, will be furnished free of charge, by me or any of my agents, upon application. I will state, as an indication of the intense interest which the subject is exciting, that nearly a quarter of a million of copies of the pamphlet have already been applied for.

Parties desiring to secure seed should order at once, as the indications are that the limited amount obtained will be exhausted long before the season of sowing has passed. Those who raise seed this year can realize a rich return, by distributing it to supply the demand of farmers and planters for sowing another year.

Orders should be sent directly to me, unless in the vicinity of New York, where they will be filled by J. M. HANSON & Co., 406 Broadway, New York, General Agents.

Agricultural Houses, General Merchants, and any other parties properly situated are invited to become agents for the sale of the Honey Blade Seed. Authority, full particulars, and [illegible] to 100 pamphlets for distribution, will be furnished either by me or the New York Agents, on receipt of $2 cents, to prepay the postage.

I can confidently refer to the following well known gentlemen as [illegible] Hon. R. B. Rayner, President of the St. Louis Agricultural and Mechanical Association, Vice President of the National Agricultural Society, and Member of Congress elect from St Louis; Gen. T. Tilghman, Oxford, Md., President of the National Agricultural Society; John J. Anderson, Banker, St. Louis; John Riggan, Jr., Broker, St. Louis and ex-Mayor Washington King, St. Louis.
